Who are the Coordination Montagne ?

The French Coordination Montagne («mountain coordination») was founded in 2012 in Chamonix-Mont-Blanc by mountaineering foundations to defend mountaineering values. It is the national union for French mountain federations, clubs, mountain guides, professionals and environmental associations. In 2017, the Mountain Coordination includes 20 members :

The coordination develops mountaineering activities and deals with :

- access to mountain practices
- regulation of mountain hut
- risks prevention
- youth training and mentoring
- Promotion of mountain activities and territories

The mountain coordination is used to make events.

- The GHM, one our member, organize the “Piolet d’Or” who recompenses major expedition on the world. It’s a way to celebrate the story of mountaineering.
- Since 2012, with our members we organize “The Mountain Public Meetings” to federate mountain actors around several questions of the mountain’s challenges. The focus this year was on the mountain’s opportunities to the young people. And we wish to continue this initial review with this European project.
