² Reciprocal rights stipulate that each member of the contracting parties has the same rights and responsibilities to a hut owned by one of the participating associations as a member of the said hut-owning association. This applies to every hut belonging to the signatory associations. In particular, each mountain hut user pays the same rate for an overnight stay as a member of the reciprocating association.

² All participating associations are obliged to acquire reciprocity for all their members and thus to print reciprocity stamps in membership cards.

³ All UIAA member associations are entitled to obtain individual stamps for their members from the Reciprocal Agreement Secretariat.

⁴ Other mountaineering associations which are not UIAA members can submit an application to purchase individual stamps for their members to the meeting of the participating associations. The meeting decides after a response has been obtained from the national UIAA association.

⁵ The Reciprocal Agreement Secretariat has the sole right to print and issue individual stamps. The stamps will be delivered to the associations upon receipt of payment. Unused stamps may be exchanged for stamps valid the following year.

⁶ The scale of fees, which fixes the level of fees for hut-owning and non-hut-owning associations as well as the fee for individual stamps, will be determined at the AGM of the participating associations.

Art. 5 Hut Fund

² The fund assets are accrued from the revenue. The respective fixed costs of the Reciprocal Agreement Secretariat are deducted from this amount. The remaining amount is divided between the hut-owning associations according to their revised number of beds, in order to balance the costs arising from investments and hut maintenance.

⁴ If remuneration surplus results from the calculations of the Reciprocal Agreement Secretariat, then the Reciprocal Agreement Secretariat must transfer this to the participating association by 31 December.

⁵ The hut-owning associations are obliged to use the income from the fund solely for their mountain huts.

Art. 5 Huts/Sleeping places

¹ In order to calculate the number of sleeping places in the Reciprocal Agreement, huts must fulfil each of the following criteria:

- the hut must be located in an isolated position in the mountains;
- the hut must be open to all hut visitors;
- the hut must be located at an altitude above 1500 metres;
- the hut must not be served by a public road or cableway during the high season;
- access to the hut must require at least a one-hour hike.

² Huts above 1500 metres that can be reached within less than an hour's hike from a car park or cableway station are regarded as extraordinary huts.

³ Permanent bivouacs are considered equivalent to huts when they

- have no warden;
- are located at a minimum altitude of 2500 metres;

- have a minimum of eight permanent sleeping places with mattresses or suitable protective underlay.

⁴ The proceeds of the Hut Fund will be distributed on the basis of permanent sleeping places available to visitors, whereby the following coefficients will be used:

- 0.5 for extraordinary huts (i.e. huts over 1500 metres altitude, which can be reached within less than an hour's hike from a car park or cableway station);
- 1.0 for huts between 1500 and 2000 metres altitude
- 1,5 for huts between 2001 and 2500 metres altitude
- 2.0 for huts between 2501 and 3000 metres altitude
- 2.5 for huts between 3001 and 3500 metres altitude
- 3.0 for huts above 3500 metres altitude

⁵ The determined number of beds for each altitude is calculated by multiplying the number of sleeping places by the respective altitude coefficient.

This notwithstanding, resolutions concerning the agreement require the approval of the founding associations present as well as a two-thirds majority of the associations present. In the event of a tie, the chairman of the meeting will cast the deciding vote.

⁴ In particular, the meeting will make decisions on income and expenditure of joint hut funds, the level of contributions, possible fines as well as the exclusion of an association.

The basis here is the maximum number of members and sleeping places of the preceding year serve as the basis here.

² Should an association provide the General Secretariat with obviously incorrect member numbers, the meeting, acting on a proposal by the chairperson, may at any time adapt these figures to their own estimate. In the event of recurrence, the meeting may at any time decide to exclude the respective association from the distribution of revenue in accordance with Art. 5 Clause 5.

³ Should an association provide the Secretariat with false member numbers that can be proven to be wrong, the meeting may invoice this association retrospectively the settlement for the two preceding accounting periods.

The fine will benefit the Hut Fund. The date of the postmark is the exclusive decisive factor in determining late arrival.

² Should a fine imposed by the meeting on the defaulting participating association remain outstanding, and following one reminder with non-payment of arrears by the given deadline, the meeting may declare the said association to be excluded from the Reciprocal Agreement. This decision may be taken by circular and is subject to a simple majority.

Art. 9 Bilateral agreements of the contracting parties
