APPLICATION PROCESS

Each year the Award focuses on a different continent. The 2021 Award (originally scheduled for 2020) is for festivals from the Asian continent held from April 2020 to December 2021.

To apply please fill in this form and return it to rockclimbing@theuiaa.org. The panel may ask you for additional information closer to the date of your festival if it isn't available at the time of application. The application deadline is still to be confirmed but is expected to be in June 2021.

Once all applications have been received, festivals will be examined and then shortlisted by the UIAA Rock Climbing Festival Award Panel. The Award winner(s) will be announced at the 2021 UIAA General Assembly.

The total prize money for the 2021 Award is 2,500 USD (to be confirmed). Please note this money may be divided across all prize categories. The total number of prizes associated with the 2021 Award will be determined once all applications have been received. All nominated projects will be showcased across the UIAA's international communication channels.

Please read our website for further details on the criteria which needs to be met by nominees.

Festivals must be affiliated, or recognised, by the UIAA UIAA member federation in their country. Where there is no UIAA member federation, the UIAA will examine candidates on a case-by-case basis and such applications will be considered for the Development prize.
