2016 UIAA Respect the Mountains

Tenerife, Spain

UIAA RESPECT THE MOUNTAINS - TENERIFE

Spend a morning making a positive difference to the future of the environment and an afternoon enjoying the area's natural beauty by volunteering at the family-friendly UIAA and KEEN Respect the Mountains clean-up event in Tenerife. The event features as part of the Tenerife Walking Festival.

The UIAA Respect the Mountains series, partnered by KEEN, will take place throughout the summer of 2016, with nine events held across eight countries in some of Europe's most popular and beautiful mountain tourist destinations - from the lush green valleys of North Wales to the alluring, vibrant Black Forest to sun-kissed Tenerife and the imposing might of Mount Kazbek. With over 100 million visitors travelling to these areas each year, the environmental impact is considerable and the need to raise awareness about mountain protection greater than ever.

Spain will host one of the UIAA Respect the Mountains events, with Tenerife providing the setting on Thursday 16 June and Saturday 18 June. The event is organized by the Tenerife Tourism Corporation as part of the Tenerife Walking Festival.

All of the events unite clean-up initiatives, adventure and a chance for volunteers to share their appreciation of mountains. This is a genuine 'grass roots' concept welcoming all types of mountain visitors – tourists, local volunteers, sport enthusiasts and businesses to come together and foster their own mountain community. The event programmes are designed for all ages and a wide demographic, with an emphasis on team spirit and a mutual appreciation of mountains.

Throughout the 2016 series, the UIAA and KEEN will promote the '7 Ways to Respect the Mountains'. These are: book smart, travel wise, support sustainable practices, be a respectful mountain tourist, leave no trace, Reduce, Reuse, Recycle & Upcycle (RRRU) and spread the word. At each event, one of these rules will form part of the core message.

The programme in Tenerife will take place over two days. On the evening of Thursday 16 June two educational lectures will take place at the Hotel Escuela Santa Cruz. Topics will include 'zero footprint' and 'respect for the mountain environment'.

Saturday 18 June is reserved for the clean-up operation. Two different sessions will take place. The first will be held on the "Afur – Taganana" path – in the Anaga Biosphere Reserve by UNESCO. Volunteers will be picked up from both Santa Cruz (07:30) and La Laguna (07:45) bus stations before arriving in Afur. The clean-up operation will commence at 09:00. All participants will be provided with a full briefing before being distributed into groups with the cleaning equipment. After a few hours of rewarding work, participants will then have the possibility to socialize around a lunchtime picnic. In the afternoon the focus switches to the sampling of local products in a nearby restaurant. The event finishes at 17:00.

The second session will take place on the "Roques de García" path – in the Teide National Park, recognised as a World Heritage site by UNESCO. Following pick-up on route from La Laguna (14:00) bus station, the clean-up operation will commence at 15:30. During both the morning and afternoon sessions, participants will be treated to a 'Herdsman's Leap', a traditional sport practised in Tenerife. After a few hours of rewarding work, participants will then have the possibility to socialize around an evening picnic at 20:30 ahead of a chance to take part in some stargazing. The event finishes at 23:00.

Throughout the day, participants will need a keen eye as the volunteer discovering the most original piece of garbage will be awarded a prize from the KEEN product range.

The event is organized by the Tenerife Tourism Corporation as part of the Tenerife Walking Festival.
